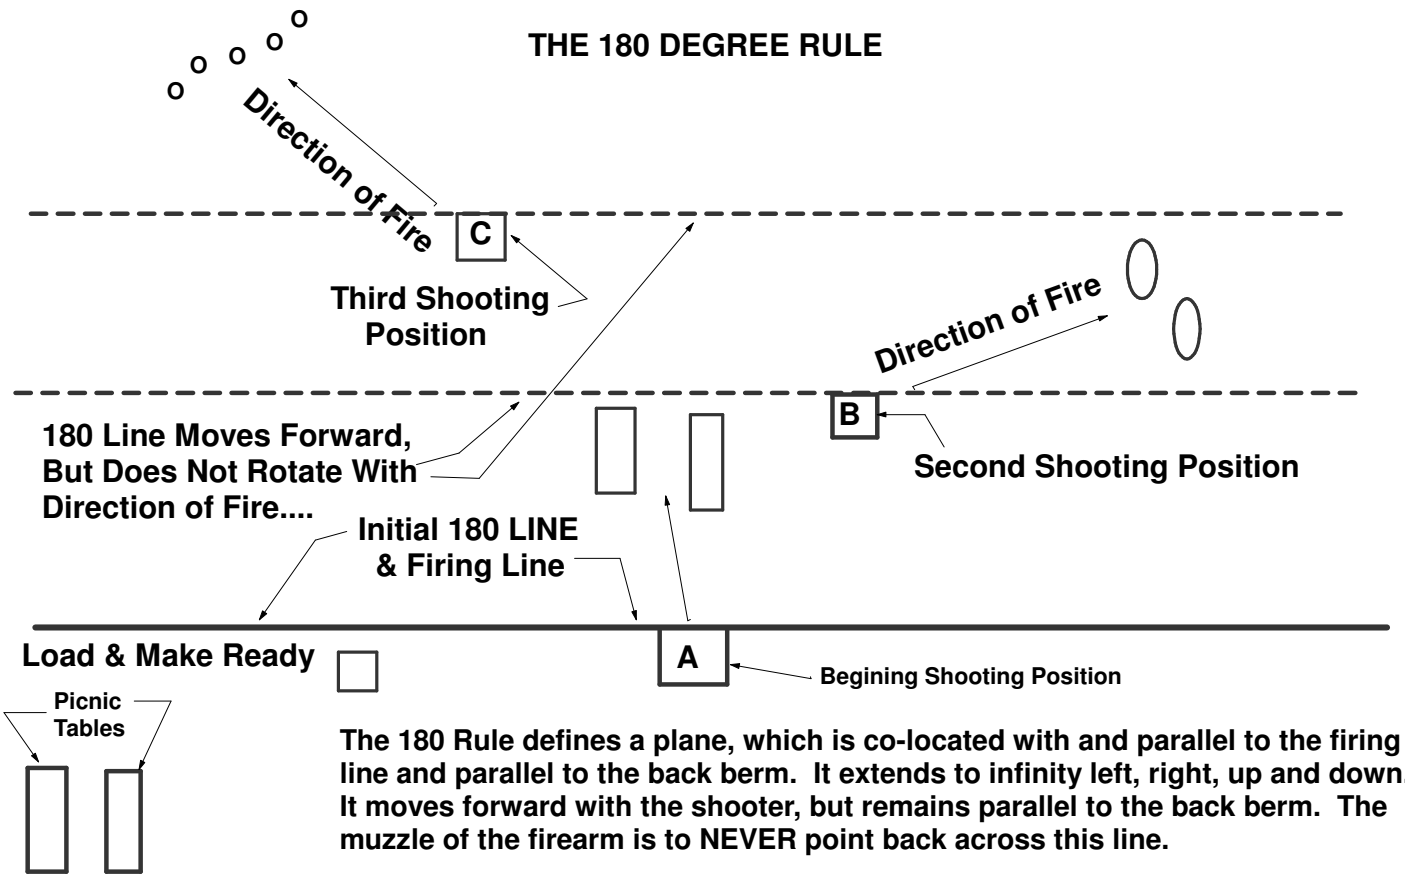
THE 180 DEGREE RULE



The 180 Rule defines a plane, which is co-located with and parallel to the firing line and parallel to the back berm. It extends to infinity left, right, up and down. It moves forward with the shooter, but remains parallel to the back berm. The muzzle of the firearm is to NEVER point back across this line.